

Old Stone Fort Archaeological Society

April 2013

The Old Stone Fort Archaeological Society will meet Thursday, April 11th at 6:00 pm at the Old Stone Fort Museum in Manchester, Tennessee. The purpose of this Society is to learn more about prehistoric Native American cultures and the early historic period of Tennessee. Our meetings are on the second Thursday of each month and are Free and open to the public.

Dr. Sarah Sherwood

who will present

Research Update on the Sandstone Rockshelters on the Southern Cumberland Plateau

Dr. Sarah Sherwood is a professor of Anthropology and Archaeology at Sewanee, The University of the South. Dr. Sherwood has been investigating archaeological sites throughout the Sewanee Domain and has recovered valuable information on the Native American occupation of the Cumberland Plateau of Middle Tennessee. This research may also provide insights to the seasonal exploitation of this ecotone with the lower elevations of the Highland Rim and the Elk River drainage. I encourage all to bring artifacts that were found on the Plateau or within sight of the Mountains for comparison.

See you Thursday, Mark
