
Update on High School Graduation Requirements Data

The Background:

The Department of Education will provide an update to the Seamless Pathways report. In mid-February the Department shared a memo and report addendum shared with stakeholder and district leaders that provided additional context to the findings regarding missing graduation requirements. This update will include more information regarding the three most prominent issues contributing to the statistic that one third of Tennessee graduates did not meet graduation requirements.

Recommendation:

For informational purposes only; no action required.