

Tennessee Fosters

A statewide campaign for children in foster care with

Governor Bill Haslam & First Lady Chrissy Haslam Tennessee Fosters is a statewide campaign linking government, faith, non-profit, business
and creative communities
around our state's foster care system.

Only some are called to foster or adopt, but we all have the opportunity to make a difference in the life of child in foster care.

There are countless ways to play a part,
and together we can help every child succeed.

Explore Ways to Support Tennessee Fosters

Tennessee Fosters

*A statewide campaign
for children in foster care with*

Governor Bill Haslam & First Lady Chrissy Haslam Tennessee Fosters is a statewide campaign linking government, faith, non-profit, business
and creative communities
around our state's foster care system.

Only some are called to foster or adopt, but we all
have the opportunity to make a difference in the life of child in foster care.

There are countless ways to play a part,
and together we can help every child succeed.

Explore Ways to Support
Tennessee Fosters

If You Are Not Currently a Foster Parent

The Department of Children's Services does not recruit adopt-only homes and about 80 percent of the children who are adopted from foster care are adopted by the families who already are, and have been, their foster parents.

Our practice is to work with individuals who train to become foster parents, and then, if a child in DCS custody becomes available for adoption, the family caring for that child is generally the first option for adoption. This helps ensure the child already has a relationship with potential adoptive parents who have helped him or her navigate change, trauma and uncertainty and have offered continuity, safety and love.

To Adopt

- You can be married, single or divorced
- You may or may not have other children
- You can own your own home or rent
- You can work full or part time

For More Information

- If you are a Tennessee foster parent, please speak to your Family Service Worker.
- Read more on tnfosters.gov
- Visit adoptuskids.org for Tennessee listings.
- Visit The Heart Gallery of Tennessee at heartgalleryoftn.com for profiles and photos.

Tennessee Department of Children's Services
Division of Foster Care & Adoption
UBS Tower, 9th Floor
315 Deaderick Street
Nashville, TN 37243

If You Are Not Currently a Foster Parent

The Department of Children's Services does not recruit adopt-only homes and about 80 percent of the children who are adopted from foster care are adopted by the families who already are, and have been, their foster parents.

Our practice is to work with individuals who train to become foster parents, and then, if a child in DCS custody becomes available for adoption, the family caring for that child is generally the first option for adoption. This helps ensure the child already has a relationship with potential adoptive parents who have helped him or her navigate change, trauma and uncertainty and have offered continuity, safety and love.

To Adopt

- You can be married, single or divorced
- You may or may not have other children
- You can own your own home or rent
- You can work full or part time

For More Information

- If you are a Tennessee foster parent, please speak to your Family Service Worker.
- Read more on tnfosters.gov
- Visit adoptuskids.org for Tennessee listings.
- Visit The Heart Gallery of Tennessee at heartgalleryoftn.com for profiles and photos.

Tennessee Department of Children's Services
Division of Foster Care & Adoption
UBS Tower, 9th Floor
315 Deaderick Street
Nashville, TN 37243

General Services, Authorization No. 359190, copies November, 2016. This public document was promulgated at a cost of $0.09 per copy.

General Services, Authorization No. 359190, copies November, 2016. This public document was promulgated at a cost of $0.09 per copy.